The Robert Scott Bell Show: Homeopathic Hits - Mercurius cyanatus

Mercurius cyanatus: The Cyanosis, Diphtheritic Throat and Haemorrhagic Remedy

Introduction:
Today's Homeopathic Hit is Mercurius cyanatus, Cyanide of Mercury. Boericke highlights this remedy in acute infections, pneumonia, nephritis, typhoid pneumonia, diphtheritic states, rapid prostration, cyanosis, haemorrhages of dark fluid blood, albuminuria, and ulcerative breakdown of the mouth and throat.

Origin of Mercurius cyanatus:
Prepared from Cyanide of Mercury, Mercurius cyanatus reflects a severe remedy picture marked by rapid collapse, infectious toxemia-like states, dark haemorrhages, suffocative respiratory states, and destructive ulceration of the buccal cavity, throat, palate, and fauces.

Key Characteristics and Primary Uses

Acute Infection States: Boericke includes acute infections, pneumonia, nephritis, and typhoid pneumonia.
Great and Rapid Prostration: The remedy picture includes marked weakness, collapse tendency, coldness, nausea, and exhaustion.
Dark Haemorrhages: Bleeding may occur from different orifices, with dark fluid blood.
Cyanosis and Suffocation: Livid states may appear with great struggling, imminent suffocation, and threatened lung paralysis.
Diphtheritic Throat Picture: The mouth and throat may show gray membranes, ulceration, intense redness, difficult swallowing, hoarseness, and painful talking.
Buccal Ulceration: The mouth may be covered with ulcerations, with pale tongue, fetid breath, salivation, and swollen salivary glands.
Respiratory Urgency: Rapid respiration, rapid heart action, laryngeal or nasal diphtheritic states, and great sweat are noted.
Gastrointestinal Disturbance: Nausea, bilious or bloody vomiting, hiccough, abdominal tenderness, black stools, tenesmus, and fetid discharges are included.
Urinary Involvement: Urine may be amber colored, painful, albuminous, scanty, or suppressed, especially in nephritis with great debility and chilliness.
Nervous Symptoms: Excitement, fury, talkativeness, twitching, jerking of muscles, and atrocious headache may appear.

Dosages and Potencies

Boericke's Dose: Sixth to thirtieth potency.
Low Potency Caution: Boericke notes that aggravation is apt to occur from potencies below the sixth.
Low to Medium Potencies: 6x, 6c, 12x, 12c, 15x, 30x, 30c.
Higher Potencies: Consult your favorite homeopath through GNHShealing.com or VibrantLife247.com.

Complementary Remedies

Based on rapid prostration, diphtheritic throat states, ulcerated mucous membranes, dark haemorrhages, cyanosis, nephritis, albuminuria, and suffocative respiratory symptoms
Mercurius corrosivus: Compare in destructive ulceration, burning pains, tenesmus, and severe mucous membrane involvement.
Kali bichromicum: Boericke specifically references it in diphtheria of the larynx and nose.
Lachesis: Compare in dark haemorrhages, livid states, throat involvement, and toxic collapse patterns.
Baptisia: Compare in typhoid states, prostration, fetor, and septic-looking illness.
Arsenicum album: Compare in collapse, coldness, weakness, restlessness, and destructive infectious states.
Phosphorus: Compare where pneumonia, haemorrhage, prostration, and lung involvement are prominent.
Crotalus horridus: Compare in dark fluid bleeding, septic states, and profound prostration.
Cantharis: Compare in nephritis, painful scanty urine, albuminuria, and urinary irritation.
Carbo vegetabilis: Compare in cyanotic collapse, cold sweat, and suffocative respiratory weakness.

Cautions:
Symptoms such as suffocation, cyanosis, pneumonia, diphtheria-like throat obstruction, dark haemorrhage, suppression of urine, nephritis, bloody vomiting, black stools, or rapid collapse require immediate medical evaluation. This remedy discussion is educational and should not delay emergency care.

Conclusion:
When prostration comes rapidly, when the mouth and throat break down with gray membrane, fetor, salivation, and difficult swallowing, when dark bleeding, cyanosis, rapid breathing, albuminous urine, and collapse enter the picture, Mercurius cyanatus reflects Boericke's intense remedy state - a Cyanide of Mercury remedy centered on malignant infectious states, destructive throat involvement, haemorrhage, nephritis, and profound exhaustion.
